

Volunteer at Cave Creek Canyon, SE Arizona in the Chiricahua Mountains

When: Dec., 2017.- Dec. 2018 [ex. April-May]

Job: hosting the Visitor Information Center, 9 am-4 pm, 3 days per week.

Minimum commitment is 1 month, preferably 2

Requirements: friendly, birding or nature knowledge desired but not mandatory, prior hosting or volunteer work helpful but not required

Two RV pads available with full hook ups and wifi, [1 under trees]. Propane expense is reimbursed. 1 pad site is for smaller units. The other will take a unit up to 33-35' long, 13" high [tree can be trimmed higher if necessary] and 13' maximum slide out width.

Work involves greeting the public, answering questions, giving directions, cleaning and selling a few items [book, t-shirts and hats].

This area is considered one of the most diverse ecosystems in the United States, covering almost all of the life zones. It is just outside the townlet of Portal and starts at 5000', rising to over 9000'. It is far enough south that there is usually only 1 or 2 days of any snow which usually melts away the same day.

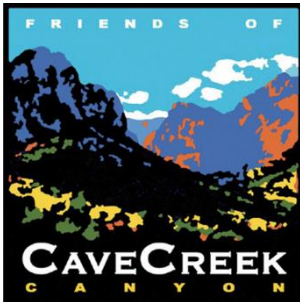

Cave Creek Canyon is a quiet and spectacularly beautiful area. For more information on the area please go to:
